

EXAMINATIONS: August/September 2017

1. SIGHT TRANSLATION EXAMINATIONS Room: LI220

Greek	Thursday, 31 August	13:00 – 16:00
Latin	Friday, 1 September	13:00 – 16:00

Students in the "qualifying year" of the Classics graduate programs (last year of MA or first year of PhD) are expected to write the Sight Translation examinations every time they are offered, until they have achieved the passing grade for the program they are in. The passing grade is B– for MA, B+ for PhD. Students in the first year of a two-session MA program are encouraged to attempt these examinations.

2. QUALIFYING EXAMINATIONS Room: LI220

Greek	Tuesday, 5 September	14:00 – 17:00
Latin	Wednesday, 6 September	9:00 – 12:00

The Qualifying Exams are based on the Reading Lists and cover the entire list, prose and verse; there is no commentary or essay section. The examinations are offered twice a year in May and September. Students are expected to attempt the exams beginning in May of their qualifying year (last year of the MA or first year of the PhD). A grade of B- in each examination is required for successful completion of the MA. B+ is required for the PhD and must be attained by September of the third year of the PhD.

3. MODERN LANGUAGE EXAMINATIONS Room: LI103

German / French	Friday, 22 September	9:00 – 11:00
------------------------	----------------------	--------------

PhD candidates must successfully complete translation examinations in two modern foreign languages before taking the examination on the Major Field. One of these languages must be German; the other is normally French, but the Graduate Coordinator may authorize the substitution of Italian if it is appropriate for the candidate's field of specialization. Students intending to write one or both papers should notify the Department at least two weeks prior to the date of exam.

For specific problems relating to these examinations, please contact the Chair of the Graduate Examinations Committee, Professor Victoria Wohl
